Employment History

Since 2017 I have been working on building systems for internal and external use for customers from different market segments and who had particularities in all aspects. During the projects I responded to development needs working in back-end, front-end and infrastructure teams. Among these projects are legacies that needed maintenance, newly built projects that needed continuity and new projects that needed to be started. Among the segments are solutions for human resources, accounting and inventory management. Most of the solutions were built using the MySQL, PHP, Laravel, jQuery and Bootstrap stack. Since 2018, in parallel with the other projects, I have accepted jobs as a freelancer.
